London, May 28.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from France.

Hambourg, May 29.

THE last Letters from Stockholm say, the Czar's Minister is very assiduous in his Masters Affairs at the Swedish Court, and that Count Horn, who has been recovered with great Difficulty from a severe Fit of Illness, has given free Admission into his Chamber to that Minister at any Hour he pleases. 'Tis said he is very solicitous for the Meeting of the Swedish Estates this Summer, and intimates the Czar's being willing to grant favourable Terms of Commerce to the Subjects of that Kingdom. Notwithstanding such Intimations, the Swedes don't stand in Need of Evidence to explain the Czar's Conduct to such of his Allies who have depended upon his Promises. Letters from Moscow speak in their wonted Strain of the Czar's going next Month to Astracan, while the Duke of Holstein is to accompany the Czarina and the two young Princesses to Petersbourg. The Naval Armament at Archangel is continued with great Diligence. The King of Denmark having held a Privy Council at Fredericksbourg, caused an Express to be dispatched to his Secretary at Stockholm; and General Arnold, who is appointed to go in Quality of Envoy Extraordinary from his Danish Majesty to the Swedish Court, has received his last Instructions, and had his Audience of Leave. The Danish Fleet is to consist of 22 Ships of the Line, 3 Frigates, and 2 Bomb Vessels.

Hague, June 2. The States of Holland were assembled this Day: No Answer is yet come from Zealand to the Letter which the States General sent by an Express to induce that Province to send thither their Deputies, provided with full Powers to regulate Affairs concerning the Marine. M. Gansinot, Minister of the Elector of Bavaria and of the Bishop of Munster, delivered Yesterday to the States two Letters from those Princes, notifying the Nomination of the latter to the Coadjutorship of Cologne. M. Meinderhausen, Minister of Prussia, having presented a Memorial some Days ago, for the Payment of 100,000 Florins lately due, their High Mightinesses have wrote to several Provinces to send their respective Contingencies to the Receiver-General's Office without further Delay; to which the Province of Groningen only has alledged Inability as to that Particular. At the Instance of the States General, the Marquess de Monteleone has wrote to his Court, desiring his Catholic Majesty would be pleased to cause his Orders to be sent to the Governours of the Spanish Sea-Ports, to give all necessary Assistance to the Squadron of these Provinces, which is designed to winter in the Mediterranean.

Paris, May 30. Provence. M. de Pilles Governor of Marseilles, in his Letter of the 10th of May writes, that on the 9th a Servant-Maid had died of a doubtful Distemper; she had kept her Bed four Days, and during three of them had no Marks of Infection on her. All Preparations were made for an Hospital in Case of Need, but he was in hopes those Precautions would be useless. M. de Grand Maillon, the Commanding Officer in Fort St. John at Marseilles, writes the 11th of May, that by the Death of several Persons since the 8th the breaking out of the Plague a-new at Marseilles was confirmed. Should the Distemper increase a little more, the Gallies would remove to the Arsenal, and the Troops would keep by themselves. The Marquess de Brancas writes the 13th of May, that since the 11th at Night four had died or fallen sick in the same Street where the first were taken ill, and that Street was barricaded the 13th. A Surgeon was fallen sick. All proper Dispositions were made, in Case of a further Relapse, for Hospitals, Places for Quarantain, Infirmeries, Buriers of the Dead, Physicians, and Surgeons: Barriers were sealed, and generally whatever is necessary for preventing the being surprised.

The Count. The Marquess de Nogues writes the 4th of May, that he had spoke that Day to the Marquess de Galeas at the Barrier of Avignon, who told him that during the four preceding Days the Distemper had much decreased there, and that but few died or fell sick. Two Persons out of several who had concealed infected Goods had been severely whipped. A Quarantain was beginning there. Those who shall come out of their Houses are to pay a large Fine, and if they are not able to pay it, the Men are to be made Buriers of the dead, and the Women to be made Nurses to infected Persons. 'Tis feared this would not be regularly observed, because the People still continue ungovernable.

Paris, June 3. It is reported, that a Courier is arrived from Rome with three Briefs from the Pope to the King; the first to chuse what Confessor he likes best; the second to create the Grand Almoner Bishop of the Court; and 'tis said, though not with great Certainty, that the third is to order the Prosecution of the Seven Bishops who oppose the Constitution Unigenitus. On the 28th of last Month, the King dined at his Palace of la Muette; after Dinner his Majesty hunted in the Bois de Boulogne, and in the Afternoon on Sunday, the 31st of last Month, he hunted at the same Place, accompanied by the Infanta Queen. The King's Equipages, and those of the Marechal de Villeroi, and several other Noblemen, are already sent to Versailles. On the 29th of last Month, his Majesty signified his Intention of lying there the 15th Instant. The Engineer whom the King sent to Rheims to survey and take a Plan of the Cathedral, the City, and Places adjacent, has sent the Plan to his Majesty, who caused it to be examined, and some Difficulties being objected, the Engineer is wrote to, to return his Explanation of them while he is there upon the Spot. The Duchess of Orleans has been at the Monastery de la Magdelaine de Trenchet, to pass the Whitsuntide Holidays, and was visited there on the 25th of last Month by the Duke Regent, who dined with her at that Monastery: That Princess is since returned to her Seat at Bagnolet.
